TEACHING METHODOLOGY

General methodology of the subject

Contact hours methodology : Activities

The first session will be divided into two parts: in the first part, the Professor will give a lecture (more theoretical) about the topic of that day. In the second part of the class, a case study (hypothetical or a real case law) will be analysed and discussed together with the students.

The rest of the sessions will be built around a practical case study and will include open discussion, case solving and presentation from the Professor on specific topics.

The second part of the last session will be dedicated to a closed-book multiple choice exam.

Attendance at class is compulsory.

Outside class methodology : Activities

Every student is required to attend the teaching sessions and to do the preparatory work. The Professor will provide the students with a syllabus comprising the most relevant materials (regulations and case-law) and a concrete schedule of review for these materials. In order to follow the presentation, it is strongly recommended that the students have examined beforehand the relevant materials and case-law, as well as, where applicable, optional articles of doctrine to which the student is directed to for each session according to the bibliography provided.

For the continuous evaluation students will be required to prepare a practical exercise/ case study which afterwards will be discussed and solved in class.
